Spud is a 2005 novel by South African author, actor, playwright and producer, John van de Ruit. A comedic sometimes sad yet straight forward novel that captures the humor of life in boarding school, through the diary of John 'Spud' Milton. The book is written in the style of a diary. The story begins on the morning of Spud's first day at a private boarding school, following his year and experiences with the often eccentric characters found in the school environment. The diary also follows Spud's

Book Review: Spud (Spud, #1) by John van de Ruit | Mboten

Review Spud by John Van de Ruit . My dream is to find another book like Spud. I could never. It's incredibly funny, the characters are well-developed, it's not cliché at all, and you simply can't stop reading. It was so relatable to me, his family is well constructed, and the school's adventures are simply delicious.

It's 1991, and John "Spud" Milton's journey to manhood is still creeping along at a snail's pace. Nearly 15, Spud's starting his second year at boarding school and - to his utter mortification - he's still a spud! To make things worse, his dorm mates, the legendary Crazy Eight, have an unusual new member (Roger the cat), and his house is home to a new batch of unruly first-years.
